Astomos Energy Corporation

MOU Signing between Astomos and KPC for further study in applying LPG as shipping bunker fuels

Astomos Energy Corporation (“Astomos”) and Kuwait Petroleum Corporation (“KPC”) have agreed to conclude a Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) for further study in applying LPG as shipping bunker fuels (“LPG bunkering”). LPG bunkering concept was shaped as one of the solutions for the approaching SOx regulation for shipping fuels in 2020. This MOU was settled to enhance further cooperation for Astomos and KPC to share and research information for further collaboration in the fields of consideration of LPG fueled vessels, organizing global supply sites for LPG bunkering and many other fields relating to LPG bunkering.

For the past years, KPC and Astomos have been forming respectable business partnership in the fields of LPG supply and import. This MOU made stronger partnership for two companies and will contribute to expansion of new business fields.
